UltraDEX

amazon.co.uk Prepared 2026-10-21

UltraDEX's listings are strong and well reviewed, but it advertises on almost none of its biggest searches, and a competitor is buying the ad slot on its own brand name.

PRIORITIES

What I would do first

ADVERTISING

Put ad support behind the big searches where UltraDEX already ranks

Only 1 of the top 30 keywords across the best-sellers has an UltraDEX ad. The Fresh Breath Spray ranks #6 organically for 'bad breath' (73.6k/mo) with no ad, and the rinses sit at #39 for 'mouth wash' (24.7k/mo) and #49 for 'bad breath'. Exact-match ads on these terms are the fastest visibility win.

▼ What we saw

- Sponsored coverage: 1 of top 30 keywords (Jungle Scout keywords by ASIN)
- bad breath: 73,603/mo; Spray organic #6, Fluoride Rinse organic #49, no sponsored rank
- mouth wash: 24,719/mo; Fluoride Rinse organic #39, no sponsored rank
- toothpaste: 392,821/mo; Low-Abrasion Toothpaste organic #47, no sponsored rank, CPC ~£0.49

ADVERTISING

Defend the UltraDEX brand searches from CB12

CB12 Mouthwash takes a sponsored slot at #4 on 'ultradex' and #15 on 'ultradex mouthwash', and UltraDEX runs no ads on its own name. Brand-term ads are cheap and keep loyal buyers from switching.

▼ What we saw

- 'ultradex': CB12 Mouthwash sponsored at position 4 (DataForSEO, Amazon UK)
- 'ultradex mouthwash': CB12 sponsored at position 15
- No UltraDEX sponsored placement on either brand search

CATALOGUE

Bring the multipacks into their product families

Pack sizes are listed separately from their main products, e.g. the Fresh Breath Spray 12-pack, '6 x Daily Oral Rinse 250ml' and the toothpaste 6-packs. That splits reviews and sales rank across six sets of duplicate listings. Merging them into variation families pools both.

▼ What we saw

- 6 duplicate groups among live listings (title match, different parents)
- e.g. B0BG676CYD (Spray 12-pack) separate from B00HIXUCNC (single)
- e.g. B016KXU6OK '6 x UltraDex Daily Oral Rinse 250ml' separate from the rinse family

CONTENT

12hr Low-Abrasion Toothpaste: finish the listing

This newer best-seller family (~£7–8k/mo, 57 reviews) has 5 images, no video and no A+, and its title cuts off on mobile before the pack size. Bringing it up to the standard of the rinses would help it convert.

▼ What we saw

- B0BG66FF4T: 5 images, 0 videos, no A+ (Keepa)
- Title cut off before the size in mobile search (first 80 characters)
- 57 reviews, 4.6★

UltraDEX is almost absent from paid search on its biggest terms. Defend the brand name first, then add exact-match ads where products already rank on page 1–3 ('bad breath', 'mouth wash', 'toothpaste').

AMAZON MARKETING CLOUD

Path to purchase and repeat buying

Repeat-purchase signals: high (Subscribe & Save on 62% of ASINs, multipacks 38%, consumable category).

What we expect AMC to show

Questions we would answer in week one

- Most best-sellers offer Subscribe & Save in a repeat-purchase category, so repeat buyers are likely a large share of rinse and spray revenue.
- With CB12 advertising on the brand name, some existing UltraDEX buyers are probably being tempted to switch at the point of reordering.

1. How many rinse buyers reorder, and after how many days?
2. Do spray buyers go on to buy the rinse or toothpaste?
3. How many shoppers who search 'ultradex' end up buying CB12?

METHOD

How this was put together

Built from public marketplace data (Keepa, Jungle Scout, DataForSEO, Amazon catalogue and bid recommendations) on 2026-10-21. We have not seen this brand's Seller Central or advertising account, so spend and budget figures are estimates.

Budget model: search volume × 12% of searches producing an ad click × target sponsored share of voice by tier × CPC benchmark, plus 15% for remarketing.
